Bio ~ Connie Lapallo

Connie Lapallo is the author of Dark Enough to See the Stars in a Jamestown Sky. Her novel is based on the true story of the women and children at Jamestown, including Connie's 13th great-grandmother.

Connie has a degree in Finance from Virginia Tech and an MBA from the University of Georgia. She and her husband have been married for 25 years and live with their four children, ages 14 to 19, in Hanover County, Virginia. She has homeschooled her children for the past 13 years and prior to that worked as a tour guide at Berkeley Plantation.

Connie began researching her family tree when she was 11 years old. By 16, she was writing professionally as a Youth Correspondent for the Richmond News Leader.

Dark Enough to See the Stars in a Jamestown Sky was published in 2006, following eight years of research, and is the first in her trilogy about the women and children of Jamestown. The second novel, When the Moon Has No More Silver, is near completion.
